Statement On Behalf Of McGurks Bar Atrocity Litigation

We act on behalf of a number of the McGurks Bar families including Bridget Moss whose husband Edward Kane was murdered.

We welcome this first-time judicial assessment on this precedent setting action on the tort of deceit.

The Plaintiff alleges that the state deliberately misled her and the other McGurks families by blaming those who were killed in the bombing.

The case will now be appealed to a high court judge for the latest stage of the McGurks families long running quest for justice.
